

Sinclair Broadcasting is forcing its stations to put aside their regular programming in order to air a broadcast that is aimed at smearing Senator Kerry and influence the election. This is an example of corporate media, in which the media is serving its own corporate interests rather than the interest of the public. If Sinclair is to use the public airwaves free of charge the law mandates that they must serve the public interest. If one company owns too much of the airwaves our democracy is threatened when they tell local stations what they must program. Thank you.
